8/ Remuneration policy for staff

The policy towards the recruitment and remuneration of the management and the staff are based on the following principles:

- Whenever possible, management and staff functions on all levels within the organization are fulfilled with qualified volunteers.
- Only when strictly required, management and staff functions of WOPG are fulfilled with employees or contractors. The remuneration of these employees/contractors remains modest and below current Dutch benchmarks.

9/ Remuneration policy for Board members

In compliance with the Foundation's statutes, board members are not remunerated, but may reimburse expenses.

10/ Activity report for 2016

The major focus of Words of Peace Global is to share the message of peace as articulated by Mr Prem Rawat, through speeches, radio and TV interviews, and public forums to the general public.

2016 saw Prem Rawat carry out 94 speaking engagements across 27 countries. 18 of those engagements were media interviews which were broadcast to tens of millions people. The biggest breakthrough in terms of media in the year was the use of radio, especially in South Africa, where it remains the most prolific medium.

Although Prem has given radio interviews before, it was never to the extent that occurred in South Africa where on one day 2 radio interviews reached over 25 million people, with syndication to other stations and content repeated several times.

Although TV and print media will still be important, radio will now develop as a significant medium for Prem Rawat's message as a means to reach many more people in far-flung areas who cannot attend events. With global reach, online as well as traditional radio will be another mechanism by which a global audience can benefit.

TV & Radio

Across the 27 countries where Prem Rawat toured in 2016, interviews included national broadcasters in South Africa, Cote d'Ivoire, Portugal and Malaysia.
